

Statement of solicitor competence

Updated 9 August 2022

About the competence statement

Made up of three parts (a Statement of Solicitor competence, the Threshold Standard [https://jobs.sra.org.uk/solicitors/resources/continuing-competence/threshold-standard/], and a Statement of Legal Knowledge [https://jobs.sra.org.uk/solicitors/resources/continuing-competence/statement-legal-knowledge/]), the competence statement defines the continuing competences that we require from all solicitors.

The Statement of Solicitor Competence sets out what solicitors need to be able to do to perform their role effectively. It provides everyone with a clear indication of what they can expect from their solicitor. Aspiring solicitors are tested against this by the SQE [https://jobs.sra.org.uk/sra/policy/solicitors-qualifying-examination/].

The Statement of Solicitor Competence is supported by our Statement of Legal Knowledge [https://www.sra.org.uk/solicitors/competence-statement/statement-legal-knowledge/], and a Threshold Standard [https://www.sra.org.uk/solicitors/competence-statement/threshold-standard/], both of which show the standards for practising and using the title of solicitor.

For a solicitor, meeting the competences set out in the competence statement forms an integral part of the requirements of service and competence set out in paragraph 3.1 of the Code of Conduct for Solicitors, RELs and RFLs [https://jobs.sra.org.uk/solicitors/standards-regulations/code-conduct-solicitors/].

Our continuing competence resources [https://jobs.sra.org.uk/solicitors/resources/topic/continuing-competence/] includes guidance on using the competence statement as a tool for continuing competence.

Solicitors with disabilities are entitled to reasonable adjustments in the manner in which the competences in the competence statement can be demonstrated, in line with our Reasonable Adjustment Policy [https://jobs.sra.org.uk/sra/equality-diversity/diversity-policies/policy/reasonable-adjustment-policy/].

Statement of solicitor competence

This document takes a broad definition of competence as being "the ability to perform the roles and tasks required by one's job to the expected standard" (Eraut & du Boulay, 2001).

The advantage of this definition is that it recognises that requirements and expectations change depending on job role and context. It also recognises that competence develops, and that an individual may work 'competently' at many different levels, either at different stages of their career, or indeed from one day to the next depending on the nature of their work.

The competence statement should be read holistically. By way of example, the requirement in A1e to respect diversity and act fairly and inclusively pervades all areas of work and underpins all of the competences in the statement.

Solicitors should be able to:

A Ethics, professionalism and judgment

A1 Act honestly and with integrity, in accordance with legal and regulatory requirements and the SRA Standards and Regulations, including

- a. Recognising ethical issues and exercising effective judgment in addressing them
- b. Understanding and applying the ethical concepts which govern their role and behaviour as a lawyer
- c. Identifying the relevant SRA principles and rules of professional conduct and following them
- d. Resisting pressure to condone, ignore or commit unethical behaviour
- e. Respecting diversity and acting fairly and inclusively

A2 Maintain the level of competence and legal knowledge needed to practise effectively, taking into account changes in their role and/or practice context and developments in the law, including

- a. Taking responsibility for personal learning and development
- b. Reflecting on and learning from practice and learning from other people
- c. Accurately evaluating their strengths and limitations in relation to the demands of their work
- d. Maintaining an adequate and up-to-date understanding of relevant law, policy and practice
- e. Adapting practice to address developments in the delivery of legal services

A3 Work within the limits of their competence and the supervision which they need, including

- a. Disclosing when work is beyond their personal capability
- b. Recognising when they have made mistakes or are experiencing difficulties and taking appropriate action
- c. Seeking and making effective use of feedback, guidance and support where needed
- d. Knowing when to seek expert advice

A4 Draw on a sufficient detailed knowledge and understanding of their field(s) of work and role in order to practise effectively, including

- a. Identifying relevant legal principles
- b. Applying legal principles to factual issues, so as to produce a solution which best addresses a client's needs and reflects the client's commercial or personal circumstances
- c. Spotting issues that are outside their expertise and taking appropriate action, using both an awareness of a broad base of legal knowledge 1 ^[#n1] (insofar as relevant to their practice area) and detailed knowledge of their practice area

A5 Apply understanding, critical thinking and analysis to solve problems, including

- a. Assessing information to identify key issues and risks
- b. Recognising inconsistencies and gaps in information
- c. Evaluating the quality and reliability of information
- d. Using multiple sources of information to make effective judgments
