

Environmental policy statement

Updated 13 November 2024

We at the Solicitors Regulation Authority (SRA) are committed to becoming a more sustainable organisation by implementing our plan to achieve net zero by 2050. As a responsible organisation, we have a duty to consider our impact on the environment and use resources effectively. This is delivered to the highest levels through an accredited ISO:14001 Environmental Management System. We therefore place the utmost importance on ensuring a core focus on environmental management.

Commitment

The chief executive officer has ultimate responsibility for performance, development and continual improvement and is committed to:

- reducing our overall emissions by 50% by 2030 (from our baseline year, 2022/23)
- achieving net zero by 2050
- promoting a positive environmental culture shared by all
- making sure our people are well trained and competent
- maintaining and reviewing the management system to ensure an effective framework of compliance
- transparency in the reporting of environmental performance, for continued effective management
- providing a system that prevents pollution and damage to the environment
- making the necessary improvements identified for continual improvement.

Aims

To meet our commitments, we aim to:

- regularly review all targets with the aim of reducing our timescale to meet net zero where possible
- maintain our ISO:14001 Environmental Management System
- provide sufficient finance and support to maintain and improve performance
- provide procedures and guidelines that are monitored and updated as necessary
- provide all staff with the right information, instruction, supervision and training appropriate to their role
- ensure that our environmental policy is understood and followed
- set and monitor targets, which will promote continual improvement

- hold people accountable at all levels for their environmental responsibilities
- hold line management accountable for environmental performance
- consult and communicate on environmental matters with staff
- investigate incidents and share the findings with staff
- meet with suppliers, contractors and companies that provide services to us and endeavour to ensure that their standards match our own
- ensure staff know that everyone has a shared responsibility for environmental performance
- periodically review the effectiveness and suitability of this policy and where needed and communicate changes appropriately.
